The charmingly furnished thatched house, thought out in every detail, can be the perfect place for the future owner to relax, and it can be taken into possession immediately with the quality and tasteful furnishings.

The lower level of the house has a dining room, kitchen, bathroom with shower and a spacious bedroom.

In the built-in attic there is a bathroom and a room equipped with 3 beds.

In a separate building, behind the house, there is a summer kitchen and a covered dining room, which can be used together with the small back garden.

The more than 160-year-old house is the oldest house in Szigliget. Fortunately, there are still those who believe that it is not necessary to tear down and sweep it aside, but to rely on the past and learn from it. Because this house was built by those who had much more knowledge and much less opportunities. Its builders built a wall that cools when needed and keeps the heat in when needed. At that time, this house and this garden were not just a place to sleep, but for them it was the world itself, the scene of a family's everyday life. Its current history will be told by those who will live there...
